This Wagon is manufactured at Defiance, Ohio—right in the region where first class wagon timber is abundant, and where is no need of putting in second class stock.

It has some points of excellence which farmers and others using wagons should bear in mind. The rubber iron gives the best of satisfaction in making short turns.

It has a bevel shoulder spoke for making the strongest wheel.

It has the patent brake rod attachment.

Its axles are made of selected black hickory and are of extra large size.

End gates, rods, king bolts, polo caps and spoke bands are made of steel.

The wheels are oil-boiled to prevent the tire from loosening.

It is the best wagon in the market for general purposes.

SPRINGFIELD Journal: Now that President Cleveland's sympathy with the unfortunate sufferers by the South Carolina earthquakes has been aroused sufficiently to induce him to send a contribution of twenty dollars to the Confederate Home at Charleston, the question is: What have the inmates of the Home been doing for the means of subsistence during the month that elapsed before this princely benefaction reached them? Wouldn't it be a good idea for the President to send some envoy extraordinary, like Sedgwick, down to Charleston to see if there are any Confederate soldiers still alive to enjoy his rather tardy benevolence? If they should all be found to have starved to death, then he may be able to give a new illustration of his frugal temper by recovering his rather rashly spent twenty dollars, at the same time that he has had all the benefit of the advertising for generosity that it has given him?

DEMOCRATIC sentiment in Colorado appears to be decidedly adverse to the renomination of President Cleveland, mainly for the reason that he has given most of the lucrative Federal offices in that State to ex Confederates As Colorado was not admitted into the Union until 1876, it does seem unjust that her share of the patronage should be used to reward men for services which, if successful, would have left no Union for her to enter, but it is to be remembered at the same time that the appointment of ex-Confederates in any part of the country tends to make friends for Mr. Cleveland in the South, where he looks for most of his support.

HIS STYLE CHANGED.

The Matrimonial Thermometer Invented by a Parisian Journalist.

A Paris journalist got married some three months ago

A few days after the ceremony he met a friend.

"Well," asked the latter, "what think you of your new position?"

"My friend, I am perfectly intoxicated. When I work my wife is always at my side and we embrace at every paragraph Great heaven, yes, at every paragraph"

"Ah," replied his friend, smiling, "that accounts for your style being somewhat disjointed lately."

This conversation was repeated, and the journalist's articles were henceforth consulted by his intimate friends as a kind of matrimonial thermometer.

For about six weeks the articles were characterized by sentences even shorter than those of the late Emile de Girardin, and the ladies of the journalist's acquaintance were rapidly growing jealous of the bride.

Then they became longer, the periods were constructed more in the English style and the paragraphs were spun out to greater length The honeymoon was evidently nearing its termination

The other day Mme X., on opening the paper and glancing at the article bearing her journalistic friend's name, made a discovery.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, "there is only one paragraph. Poor little woman! She will soon want a separation."—Paris Gaulois.

A Laconic Letter.

REASONS.

There are forty reasons why men dress well, some of them decidedly curious should they be probed.

Expediency of odd sorts, serves to accomplish certain ends and the like.

Most men, we trust, rise to the higher plane of neatness and good taste. A well bred man pleases himself and enjoys a satisfaction in knowing he attracts no attention by too little dress or too much. In our very full supply of NEW FALL BUSINESS SUITS, DRESS SUITS, FALL OVERCOATS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, you will find the happy medium, that every gentleman of good taste and every mother of refinement, who wishes to see her boys well dressed, enjoys.

In answer to the enquiry so often asked, WHERE CAN I DO THE BEST? we would say, and prove it if necessary, that every dollar's worth of goods that is delivered to us, after being examined and found correct, is paid for, SPOT CASH. This, and a twenty years' experience in our business, knowing how to buy, where to buy, offsets any argument that has been and may be made by any of our competitors as to their offering extraordinary bargains without any good reason on their part as to their superior ability, financially or otherwise, to procure them.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

FRIDAY EVE., OCT. 15 1886

Hear Rowell at the court house to night.

The Republican county ticket is growing in strength every day, and all that is necessary to elect every one of our candidates is to have a full vote.

Ladies are respectfully invited to come to the court house to night to hear Capt. Rowell, our present and next congressman.

The appointment of a Union soldier, Gen. John M. Corse, as post master in Boston, causes the Indianapolis Journal to cruelly observe that eligible ex confederates must be scarce at the Hub.

The Columbus (Georgia) Sun shows how thoroughly it has become reconstructed and reconciled by paying this tribute to one of the great heroes of the Union army:

If it were possible to take Geronimo, or the most merciless and treacherous Apache or Comanche, educate him, improve his intellect, bring him in contact with decent society, allow him to absorb a knowledge of ordinary gentility, without in the slightest degree toning down or subjugating his innate ferocity, or directing and reforming his moral perceptions, in him would be embodied the exact counterpart of General Sherman.

The country's wheat and cotton exports are much larger in the few weeks past than they were a year ago. In fact, in the eight months ending with August the wheat shipments aggregated 54,827,000 bushels, valued at $46,893,000, as compared with 38,117,000 bushels, at a cash value of $34,214,000, in the corresponding period of 1885. This is a good sign. There are indications, too, that the volume of imports to this country, which has been abnormally large thus far this year, will soon lessen. In fact, it is probable that the country will have a favorable trade balance of about $10,000,000 yet by the end of the calendar year, notwithstanding the adverse balance of over $11,000,000 at the end of August.

A false impression prevails in the minds of some people, to the effect that the election of Betzer and Laux to the city offices they now hold is an evidence of the great popularity of these two Democrats. Both of these gentlemen were elected in the spring of 1885. For the office of city clerk Betzer received 1103 votes. The three candidates who ran against him were all Republicans, and they divided among them 1368 votes; so Mr. Betzer failed by 265 votes to receive a majority. Mr. Laux received, for the office of city treasurer, 1101 votes. He was opposed by two Republican candidates, who together received 1326 votes, so that Mr. Laux failed by 225 votes to receive a majority of the total vote. It will be perceived, therefore, that the great popularity of Betzer and Laux did not suffice to give either of them a majority. The only way they could be elected was by a division of the opposition. Anybody who supposes either one of them can now do so well even as they did then is not acquainted with the situation.

According to Secretary Bayard if the American schooner "Grimes" had not hoisted the American flag it would not have been hauled down by a Canadian Captain. The way to prevent future trouble is thus easily pointed out. American vessels, before leaving American ports, should be carefully searched to see that they carry no American flags. Diplomacy is a very simple matter, after all, when one understands it.

Mrs. James A. Garfield has ordered her mansion in Cleveland to be sold, and proposes to make her future home in Mentor. The modest frame house there in which the late President rose to fame has been enlarged at a cost of $30,000 to a palatial Queen Anne structure, and is the most imposing home in the whole country. There still remains the head and front of the Garfield home, though remodeled to conform with the addition. A $30,000 addition to a $5,000 house is a curiosity in modern architecture, but sentiment for the past and its illustrious dead probably inspired it. The house as thus enlarged contains fifty rooms, all furnished in modern style and with considerable elegance, and there is an air of aristocracy about it that Garfield never knew in his own home.

A Southern Georgia paper, in a high state of indignation, calls attention to the open and undisguised traffic in white human beings now going on the North. Base ball managers, it says, actually sell their players to other managers, and this sort of thing meets with no protest from either Republicans or Democrats. It calls on President Cleveland, in tones of thunder, represented by boldface type, to issue a White Man's Emancipation proclamation.

P. W. Donahue, the genial dispenser of [illegible] is now with W. H. Carroll at No. 547 Front street, where he will be glad to receive his old friends as usual. 7-d15

Partial List, Including Many Entire Families, of the Victims of the Unprecedented Overflow

BEAUMONT, Tex., Oct. 15.—Despite the difficulties encountered in the way of bad telegraph facilities and obstructed railroad communication, your correspondent has succeeded in obtaining confirmation of the reported destruction of the town of Sabine Pass. Beyond the fact that the town has been almost entirely swept away by the flood, very little accurate information has been received as yet. It is a certainty that there has been great loss of life; a moderate estimate places the number drowned at fifty. It is not known, and perhaps never will be known just how many perished.

THE TOWN.

Sabine Pass is a town of some eight hundred people at the mouth of the Sabine River, on the Texas & Louisiana line, sixty miles up the coast from Galveston, and twenty-eight miles southeast of Beaumont, the county seat of Jefferson.

STORY OF THE SURVIVORS.

Two citizens who survived the terrible affair, at the risk of their lives rowed in a small boat five miles through the raging flood to the railroad track, where they secured the engine which brought them here. They say that on Tuesday morning some of the people noticed that the water was rising rapidly, and by noon the situation became alarming.

By two o'clock the water began invading the town and spreading through the streets. The flood came from both lake and gulf, but it appears that the danger was not considered very great until the lower floors of some of the houses were actually flooded. The danger was then seen, but not until it was too late to escape from the city. Safety by flight being out of the question, people who were situated so that they could do it betook themselves to the roofs of houses thought to be safe. The water kept rising.

Between three and four o'clock the smaller houses began to yield to the resistless force of the waves, and not only moved from their foundations but turned on their sides and tops. A little later and the larger houses began to give away, and death by drowning seemed in store for every citizen of the place. With the yielding of the smaller houses several persons who had remained in them were drowned, and when the residences and business places began to crumble the fatality began to double.

The situation during the latter part of the afternoon beggars description. The manifestation of terror and agony by the people looking death in the face and realizing there was no escape; the dying cries of women rendered almost inaudible by the roar of the wild sea; the hoarse voices of pallid men trying to save those dear to them all combined made a scene too horrible to be described.

SOME OF THE LOST.

The parties who brought the information here say they think about thirty to forty negroes and about twenty-five white people were drowned. They could not give anything like a complete list of the victims, but furnished the following names of whites persons known to be drowned:

James Vondy and family, consisting of wife and five children.
Otto Brown, wife and two children.
Homer King, wife and child.
Mrs. Pomeroy and five children.
Mrs. Junker and son.
Mrs. Stewart, daughter and son.
Mrs. McDonald, daughter and grandson.
Frank Mulligan and family of four.
Columbus Marter and family.
Mrs. Arthur McReynolds.
Miss Mahala Chambers.
Henry Nelson.
Ed Wylie.
Mr. Chambers.
R. V. Wilson.
Mrs. B. F. McDonough.
Miss Jackie McDonough.
R. V. Melam.
H. B. Antow.
W. Martow.
Henry Dow.
Ed Wantrow.
Joseph Smith.

Besides these, your correspondent's informants say they have personal knowledge of the drowning of about twenty-five negroes.

Confirmatory Details.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 15.—The reports regarding the overflow and terrible disaster visited upon Sabine Pass, have been positively confirmed. Citizens of Houston have been wiring to Beaumont and trying in every possible way to ascertain the extent of the damage done and the number of lives lost.

The Houston Post sent a correspondent to the Pass and the following facts from the Post were ascertained. The correspondent describes many heartrending incidents. He states that Major Stanford's wife and infant were at Sabine and the Major was at Beaumont. At about nine p. m. Mrs. Stanford, realizing that her house must soon be torn to pieces by the surging waters, took her baby in her arms, and by a desperate struggle and great presence of mind, succeeded in catching a good tree. Up this she climbed, and with her infant in her arms clung to the tree all night.

The Pomeroy boys report that they saw Mrs. Junker and her son Carlisle (reported lost) in the same boat when it swamped; that they managed to reach the roof of a house, from which they were observed hours after. The last they saw of Mrs. Junker and her son the boy had one arm around his mother and was holding on to a boat with the other. Carlisle Junker is noted for being the most expert swimmer in all East Texas, and his bravery and coolness lead his friends to believe that his mother and himself are safe.

Joe Smith (Alligator Joe), agent for R. S. Solomon, Newark, N. J., dealers in alligator pelts, was lost by being carried out into the gulf in a boat. The candid opinion of those best informed is that the report is not exaggerated regarding the number of lives lost, which is about sixty-five. Relief trains have been sent to the Pass from Beaumont carrying bedding, medicine and other necessaries to assist the stricken people. Two additional trains have been sent from Beaumont within seven miles of the Pass.

Mrs. B. F. McDonough and her daughter, Miss Jackie, reported lost, were well-known in Galveston and Houston, where they formerly resided.

The people at Beaumont having friends and loved ones at the Pass are frenzied with the uncertainty of the fate of those in whom they feel an interest. Information comes into Beaumont slowly. There were about seventy-five or one hundred houses at Sabine Pass, and not one has been left standing.

Horrible Details.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Oct. 15.—The relief boat, L. Q. C. Lamar, which left Beaumont at ten o'clock Wednesday night with the relief committee of forty men, has returned from Sabine Pass. Twenty-five men of the forty were left behind to search for bodies, many of which are reported to have been washed many miles over into Louisiana. One hundred and one persons are missing, ninety of whom are known to have been drowned. Thirty-five of these are white and fifty colored. Alligator Joe Smith, reported lost, has turned up with three people in his boat. Dr. B. F. Calhoun reported many people without clothing at Sabine Pass, for whom the relief boat returned, taking clothing, at four o'clock this morning. He requests the press to publish a request that those who can do so will send aid for the sufferers to his address. It makes no difference what the nature of the aid—money provisions, clothing, anything.

A. T. McDonough, one of the Houston Light Guard, had relatives at the Pass. He passed through Orange last night wild with grief. His sister, Miss Jackie McDonough, was swept away and drowned in sight of Captain B. F. McDonough, her father, and Frank McDonough, her brother, who tried in vain to save her.

THE CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE

left alive beggars description. Everything is swept away. Language could not exaggerate the state of affairs. Only two houses remain standing in the town, and they are off their foundations. Wives and children were swept away and drowned in the presence of husbands and fathers, who were powerless to render them aid. The lighthouse is over half a mile from the Gulf. The windows are forty feet from the ground. Captain Plummer and his family were in this structure. The waves from the gulf half a mile distant broke against this building in solid walls fifty feet high and nearly tore out the window-glass. Corpses were picked up thirty miles from the scene of the wreck.

Berry Foley, Captain McDonough's grandchild, and his wife were picked up dead on the railroad track fifty miles from the Pass, where her body had washed.

Captain F. A. Hyatt, of the Louisana Jetty and Lightening Company, had everything swept away, but escaped unhurt.

The nearest approximate loss to the ill-fated Pass is $150,000.

Terrific Gale at Buffalo, N. Y.—Immense Damage With Loss of Life.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 15.—A terrible gale prevailed last night. At midnight the wind was sixty-five miles an hour. Twenty-nine houses were destroyed by the flood in the lower part of the city, and one hundred persons are homeless. Mrs. Chas. Lambert and daughter were drowned and others are reported missing. Many buildings are partly wrecked by wind. The damage to shipping is great. All the lumber yards on the "Island" are wrecked.

A Tornado at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—This city was nearly isolated yesterday as the result of a storm which began early in the morning and continued about an hour. The wires of the telegraph companies were down in every direction, and not a wire was working to any principal city. Several wooden houses were demolished by the wind.

He Had Not Run Away From His Creditors.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Freeman Fearnley, president of a line of refrigerator cars, whose alleged disappearance was reported Wednesday, has returned to the city and was at his office to day. He had simply been on a business trip to St. Louis and Kansas City. The rumor of his disappearance was circulated by certain parties to whom he owed money, and who could not find him. He said to a reporter to-day that the story that he was financially embarrassed was untrue. He did not owe the railroads $200, and although money was scarce, he said he was in a solvent condition.

Congregational National Council.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The National Council of the Congregational Church met in this city yesterday. The total report of the Secretary shows a total of 4,171 churches, with 380,000 members; receipts of year were $24,937, and disbursements $17,361. The election of officers resulted as follows: Secretary, Rev. Henry A. Hagen, Auburndale, Mass.; Treasurer, Dr. L. Perrin, Torrington, Conn.; Auditor Hon. David A. Camps, New Britain, Conn.; Registrar, Rev. William H. Moore, Hartford, Conn.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Lord Iddlesleigh, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, authorizes the United Press to deny the report published by the Journal De St. Petersbourg, giving an account of a public meeting at Rutschuk last Monday, at which a telegram from Prince Alexander was read, announcing his willingness to return if he was elected Prince of Bulgaria. Lord Iddlesleigh also denies the report published by the same journal that the British Consul at Rutschuk advised the meeting to resist the demands of Russia. The consul advises the Foreign Office that no such meeting was held, and Lord Iddlesleigh is assured that the alleged telegram was purely an invention.

REACHED AN ACUTE STAGE.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—It is undeniable that the Bulgarian question has reached an acute stage, as is indicated by the diplomatic negotiations now under way. M. De Schweinitz, German Ambassador to St. Petersburg, who has been holding daily communication with Count Herbert Bismarck, to-day received instructions to proceed at once to Varzin to meet Prince Bismarck.

Lord Iddlesleigh, Foreign Secretary, had a prolonged interview with Baron De Staal, Russian ambassador at London, this afternoon. There is no doubt that the Bulgarian crisis was the subject debated.

Ireland.

QUEER JUSTICE.

BELFAST, Oct 15.—There was another scene in the sessions of the commission investigating the recent riots. The counsel for the Loyalists' Defense Union endeavored to cross-examine a witness, but was checked by Justice Day. The counsel explained that he wanted to get at the facts, and contended that he was entitled to the privilege of cross-examining witnesses whose testimony had a bearing on the case. Justice Day retorted warmly, declaring that only the commissioners would be allowed to question the witnesses in cross-examination.

THE KILLARNEY HOUSE BURNING.

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—The beautiful mansion of Lord Kenmore, who is looked upon as one of the most severe landlords in Ireland, is reported to be burned. The mansion is located on the bank of the lower lake of Killarney, and is known as the Killarney House. Lord Kenmore, while high sheriff and lord-lieutenant of Kerry, became very obnoxious to the tenants on account of his extreme severity. He was one of the bitterest opponents to the Home Rule bill.

THE PACKERS' STRIKE.

An Unconditional Surrender or No Work—So Say the Employers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The question of a settlement of the existing labor difficulties at the stock yards is becoming a thing of the past. There is to be no compromise. Any concession must be made by the men. They must labor ten hours for ten hours' pay or they can not work at all. There seems to be no other way to adjust the difficulty. Prominent packers say they won't submit to any system but that of ten hours. It must be an unconditional surrender on the part of the men or nothing. The packers say they furnish the money to run this industry and don't want the men they are supporting to dictate terms. The men, they say, have been running the business for the past six months, and now they (the packers) propose to run it. A prominent packer said to-day:

"At a meeting of the association the other day I told our members that if we proposed to allow the men to dictate to us it was time to close up and sell out."

The packers are securing men to take the places of the strikers, and it is stated that Armour's, Fowler's and some other houses will be able to start up next week. The packers are united, and, from all appearances are determined to carry their point.

Delegate Barry, of the Knights of Labor, said to-day that if Armour or any other packer attempts to start up with imported men the Knights would boycott his goods. "There is no class of goods," he said, "that can be so quickly affected. The trade mark that is now worth millions will become a signal to all workingmen to avoid, not only the goods bearing it, but the stores handling the goods."

The Richmond Convention.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 16.—Yesterday afternoon the three remaining members of the executive board were selected as follows: A. S. Carleton, of Boston; T. T. Maguire, of New York, and Ira H. Aylesworth, of Baltimore. The two vacancies in the co-operative board to be filled to-day grow out of the expiration of the terms of J. J. McCarty, of Baltimore, and P. D. Cattoncock, of Troy, N. Y. The executive board has appropriated $10,000 to aid the locked-out cotton workers at Augusta, Ga., and $10,000 for the plumbers at New York City and the tanners and curriers at Salem and Peabody, Mass.

Comment is being made by the citizen of Richmond over the failure of the convention to re-elect Wm. H. Mullen, of this city, a member of the executive board. As Mr. Mullen is a labor candidate for Congress it is believed the organization considered it unwise to re-elect him. Mr. Powderly is of the firm belief that the convention will adjourn on Saturday.

Complete Failure of the Neidringhouse Cattle Drive — Forty Thousand Animals Perish.

WALLA WALLA, W. T. Oct. 15.—A cattle man just returned from Northern Montana states that the Neidringhouse drive of cattle from this country has proved a failure to the St. Louis syndicate of which Neidringhouse is a member. For a time "the drive, consisting of forty thousand head of cattle, prospered finely, but as the unusually dry season in Montana progressed grass became scarcer and streams of water fewer and farther between, the stock began to weaken and fall by the wayside, and as the days passed food became scarcer and the animals died by hundreds. The herders even suffered great privations for water, and so desperate did the situation become that when nearing the British line Neidringhouse ordered the drive abandoned and the herders to reach the Northern Pacific railway as best they could.

The scene about the drive was a most pitiful one. The cattle were reduced to skin and bone, and so weakened from fatigue and want of nourishment that they would stand still till they fell in their tracks to die. Their moaning and bellows were fearful to hear. A cold, dry, piercing wind, which was sweeping over the country, did much to complicate the horror of the situation. Cattlemen are of the opinion that the syndicate will not have two hundred head left out of the immense herd driven to this country. Their loss in this case will reach $250,000.

A Trio of Suicides.

READING, Pa., Oct. 14.—Three suicides, by which three elderly men ended their lives, took place here yesterday within a few hours of each other. Mrs. Wm. Helm, aged sixty-four, retired last night, her husband telling her that he would follow shortly. This morning she found him hanging to a peach tree in a yard, strangled to death.

Amandus Stephen and wife near Wacungie, husked corn on their farm. Toward noon Mr. Stephen, who was sixty years old, wheeled a hand-cart loaded with corn to the barn. Failing to return, search was made, and he was found hanging to a rafter in the barn. No cause is assigned.

Henry Toms, of East Reading, hanged himself to a tree near his residence because his son had recently been drowned.

A Well-Connected Young Lady Deceived Into a Mock Marriage.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Adelia Haines, a prepossessing and intelligent young lady, who was deceived into a mock marriage with John Lee in July last, he having a wife and a family in a distant part of the city, was upon the witness stand yesterday on the trial of Lee for bigamy. She stated that the marriage took place at her home, with her mother as the only witness, and that the ceremony was performed by a well-dressed, dark-complexioned, dark-mustached gentleman, who was introduced as a Presbyterian minister in charge of one of the South Side churches, but the name had been forgotten. After the marriage he gave the witness a certificate and it remained in her possession, until within a day or two of the arrest of the defendant, but by whom it was taken she did not show. There is an intimation that the man who acted as the clergyman in the bogus marriage will be produced and be made to testify.

A Wife Murderer Lynched.

MONTICELLO, Ills., Oct. 15.—Wednesday night about one o'clock about two hundred disguised men overpowdered the sheriff and broke into the jail, and took therefrom Henry Wildman, the wife-murderer, and hanged him to a small shade tree near the jail. After hanging him they then shot him eleven times to make sure of their work. Wildman cut his wife's throat on the 3d of July last near Atwood, Ill., and has been in jail here since that time.

A Change of Railway Business.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Times this morning has the following: The Baltimore & Ohio railway business, hitherto given to the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad Company for St. Louis, is to go hereafter to the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago railroad, known as the "Big Four." English security holders take possession of the Ohio & Mississippi. The "Big Four" is to put on at once a "solid train" to St. Louis from Cincinnati. The fast express heretofore was attached to the Chicago train.

An Alleged Murderer, Convicted Twice, Finally Acquitted.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 14.—Perry Harrington, a farmer living in Ashtabula County, was murdered two years ago. Louis Webster, a young man, was arrested for the crime, and on two trials was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged in both cases. In the third trial, which was held in Trumbull County, the jury has just brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Fatal Fire in an Orphan Asylum

THE THOMAS--RACE WEDDING.

Brilliant Social Event at the J. W. Race Mansion—The Ceremony.

Distinguished Guests—The Toilets—Decorations and Festivities.

Miss Lelah Race, the accomplished daughter of Mr and Mrs J. W Race, and Mr. G. D Thomas, member of the People's bank at Minneapolis, Minnesota, were united in marriage last evening at 8 o clock, at the Race mansion on West Main street, in the presence of nearly two hundred guests, members of the representative families of the city, and relatives and friends from a distance. The couple have a large acquaintance at home and abroad. Over six hundred invitations were extended, and naturally the wedding has been the principal theme of conversation for weeks in many localities The most elaborate preparations were conceived and carried out for the celebration of the nuptials. A more fashionably attired company was never seen together upon a similar occasion The parlors of the elegant residence had been charmingly adorned and arranged under the direction of Mr S L. Hart, of Minneapolis, assisted by lady friends of the bride. There was no lavish display—floral globes over the entrances to the parlors, a bank of flowers over the west mantel with a tasteful distribution of growing plants vieing with the general beauty of the home adornments. Here and there were noticeable rare and beautiful works of art, bric a brac and souvenirs from Europe, evidences of refinement, culture and exquisite taste

The last carriage bringing the guests arrived shortly before the ceremony, and promptly at the appointed hour the Opera Orchestra, placed beneath the stairway hidden from view, executed the Lohengrin wedding march, while the bridal party, accompanied by the relatives, descended and passing through the hall into the west parlor, stood in a pretty group in front of the bay window, where Rev W H. Prestley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke the impressive and beautiful ceremony, using the ring service While the company came forward to offer congratulations, the orchestra filled the rooms with the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march The guests were formally presented to Mr. Thomas and bride by Hon B K Durfee and Mr O. E Curtis When all present had been introduced, the musicians in the hall furnished the inspiration for the terpsichorean feature of the joyous celebration, dancing being continued at intervals until the wee, sma' hours of the morning

THE TOILETS

The bride wore a trained dress of white Faille Francais quite simple in design, high in the neck and three quarter length sleeves, all profusely trimmed in an exquisite quality of round point lace manufactured in Brussels expressly for the dress The toilet was finished by white gloves and gauze fan with pearl sticks, a bouquet of white roses tied with white tulle and white slippers diamond ornaments

The bride s trousseau was made in Paris by one of the most famous modistes of the day and each toilet was complete with bonnets gloves, shoes and all the small accessories necessary to perfection

The bridesmaids were Miss Grace Buck, of Chicago Miss Celeste Dubring, of Kansas City Miss Jennie Whitcomb of Minneapolis Miss Kate Brockenbrough of Lafayette Miss Alice Servis of St Louis and Miss Cora Chambers, of Decatur

Miss Whitcomb s dress was of white crepe du chine and white moire silk, trimmed with Duchesse lace and pearl ornaments the corsage was cut V shaped, back and front with gloves, fan and slippers.

Miss Celeste Dubring wore a white crepe du chine, high corsage and three quarter sleeves trimmed with white lace and pearl beads

Miss Buck wore a dress of embroidered crepe du chine with white lace trimming and diamond ornaments

Miss Cora Chambers was dressed in white crepe du chine, with front of white thread lace the corsage cut square white gloves and slippers, diamond ornaments

Miss Servis wore a dress of white watered silk and crepe du chine, Duchesse lace, pearl ornaments and diamond jewelry

Miss Brockenbrough wore a dress of white gros grain and crepe du chine, pearl and lace trimmings and diamonds

The bridesmaids carried lovely bouquets of Marschal Niel pink and white roses and jacqueminots covered with tulle and tied with ribbons to match

Mrs Race wore a trained dress of garnet velvet The front of this exquisite costume was of shrimp pink uncut velvet, with black thread lace hung with cut garnet pendants diamond ornaments

Mrs R T Leyman the bride s grand mother wore a black satin dress trimmed with jet

Mrs Oglesby wore a trained dress of white satin with front and sleeves of white and silver brocade her hair was dressed with ostrich tips, and her jewelry was amethysts

THE WEDDING FEAST

In keeping with the magnificence of the occasion was the wedding supper, which was served in an elegant manner in the dining hall, and was pronounced perfect in every detail. It was provided and served under the personal supervision of Kinsley, the famed Chicago caterer, and embraced oyster patties, game croquettes chicken salad, French sponge rolls, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, cakes and fruits in profusion, the handsome bride s cake coming from Brewer's place The tables were artistically arranged, the principal decoration being a large table upon which rested a lavish display of cut flowers and fruits. Hon W. B Chambers first ushered the bridal party to the marriage feast, then the married guests, and lastly the younger portion of the company.

The bride received a very large and costly collection of presents, a list of which is withheld at her request The remembrances comprised a beautiful diamond pin of great brilliance from the groom, and many works of art from friends whose acquaintance she formed while in Europe last year accompanied by her mother. Gifts from Decatur friends were mainly silverware, bronze figures and pictures, the offering of Mrs. Oglesby being a cabinet portrait of the Governor in regimentals, enclosed in bronze frame.

A SEPTEMBER VIOLET.

For days the peaks wore hoods of cloud
The slopes were veiled in chilly rain;
We said: It is the Summer's shroud,
And with the brooks we moaned aloud—
Will sunshine never come again?

At last the west wind brought us one
Serene, warm, cloudless, crystal day,
As though September, having blown
A blast of tempest, now had thrown
A gauntlet to the favored May.

Backward to Spring our fancies flew,
And, careless of the course of Time,
The bloomy days began anew.
Then, as a happy dream comes true,
Or as a poet finds his rhyme—

Half wondered at, half unbelieved—
I found thee, friendliest of the flowers!
Then Summer's joys came back, green-leaved,
And its doomed dead, awhile reprieved,
First learned how truly they were ours.

Dear violet! Did the Autumn bring
Thee vernal dreams, till thou, like me,
Didst climb to thy imagining?
Or was it that the thoughtful Spring
Did come again, in search of thee?
—Robert Underwood Johnson, in Century

AT THE HOSPITAL.

How Men Act When They Are Under the Knife.

Some, Who Look Brave, Whimper, While Others, Who Seem Weak, Prove to Be Heroes—An Old Soldier's Tardy Wound.

"If you are desirous of studying maimed humanity," said the senior surgeon the other day to a Tribune reporter in the operating room of the Alexian Brothers' Hospital, "just be seated for a little while and you will have a good opportunity." The reporter accepted the proffered chair, and as they were waiting for the first patient to be brought in the doctor remarked: "Nothing will strike you more than the way in which some patients behave. Men who, to judge from their looks, you would judge to be the most capable of bearing pain, are of the worst, and on the other hand, men who look as if they would shrink at the very sight of the surgeon's knife are just the opposite.

The first two patients brought in fully corroborated the doctor's remarks. The first one was a big German saloonkeeper, weighing fully two hundred and fifty pounds. He had to be assisted to the table, although the doctor remarked that he could get along quite well without assistance.

"Now, then," said the surgeon, "up you get on the table."

"O, doctor, doctor, vast ist you going to do to me? You vill not hurt me?" and the big, strong man, who looked so fierce began to whimper.

"No, no," replied the doctor, "you won't be hurt. Tut, tut. Be a man. Don't cry."

The German lumbered onto the table, and it was found that a very slight incision would be necessary; it would be over in a second, and would not hurt more than cutting one's finger. The moment the victim saw the knife he began to bellow: "O, doctor, give me the ether. O, nein, nein!" As he saw the knife getting ready, and when the point touched him, he gave a yell loud enough to waken the dead.

The next in order was a boy not more than sixteen years of age. He was so weak that he had to be carried to the table by the Brothers. He was suffering from disease of the hip joint, and tubes had to be inserted in order to drain off the pus. The operation was a painful one, and no ether was administered, but never a moan cry or groan escaped the boy's lips from start to finish, and only a slight tremulous shudder when the incision was made.

"There's a brave lad," said the doctor when he had finished, and the boy smiled, seeming to appreciate the compliment.

The next brought in was a funny one. It was that of Sam Jones, a colored roustabout, who had been hit on the head with a brick by a white man in a "levee" row. Sam had the top of his skull stove in, and the blow would have killed any one but a negro. The brain could be seen through an aperture about one and a half inches in diameter. The blow had quite taken away his power of speech, all he could say being simply "yes" or "no," and he sat on a chair and grinned idiotically. The present operation was to dress the wound and fit on a plaster of paris skull cap. It would have made Sam's fortune as a "nigger" minstrel man if he could have been seen with his black face grinning under the white cap.

The next case was an extraordinary one. The Brothers led in a short, stumpy German, who had just been admitted. The doctor had not yet examined him, so he asked him what was the matter. The reply he received was a shake of the head, and then he put up his hands and said, "Too! too!"

"Too, too what?" said the doctor. "Are you an esthetic?"

The German again shook his head and made a motion with his hands as if playing a trumpet, again saying: "Too, too."

"Now I catch on," said the doctor. It appeared that the man was a musician in an itinerant German band, and while playing the trumpet on the street suddenly lost the power of speech. It was a case of aphasia, but it was remarkable from the fact that on examination no apparent injury could be discovered. The man had also lost his memory. He tried to write his wife's name, but could neither do that nor could he remember his own.

The next patient was also somewhat remarkable. A tall, good looking man, dressed in the uniform of the G. A. R., was led in with a bandage over his eye. His name was George Werner, and his present occupation is that of a farmer down in Indiana. Werner's life has been an adventurous one. He began in the Russian navy and went through the Crimean war. He then came to America and enlisted in the United States navy in 1856. He voyaged all over the world, being attached at one time to the Pacific squadron, and, during the war, witnessed the fight between the Monitor and Merrimac in Hampton roads. He was discharged from the navy, enlisted in one of the Pennsylvania regiments and took part in several battles. Shortly after the war he came to Chicago, where he was some time city undertaker. "What's the matter with you, George?" queried the doctor.

"Got shot in the eye during a sham battle in Indiana," was the reply. And, sure enough, Werner, who had gone through all sorts of real battles, had at last succumbed to a sham one. He had been hit in the left eye by a wad, and on examination the doctor decided that the only means of saving the other eye was to take the damaged one out.

"All right, fire away," said the old soldier, taking off his coat and stretching himself on the operating table. Ether was administered and the damaged eye removed. Right behind the eye was found a piece of wad about the size of half a dollar. How it had not killed him was a miracle.

The last case to be brought in was an instance of how much is done in a charitable institution, like the Alexian Brothers', for poor patients. It was the case of a young German who had been run over by a street car and had his leg fractured. His leg began to slough, and he has been an inmate of the hospital since last December. There is very little hope, if any, of his leg being saved, and even if it should be, he will be a cripple for life. The chances are he will die soon, but he steadily refuses to have his leg cut off. If this had been done some time ago he would have been going about now with an artificial leg, but he won't allow it. In his case it is sheer cowardice that prevents him giving his consent, and unless he does it the doctors are unable to operate on him. Meanwhile he receives the best the hospital affords in the way of food and surgical dressings, and he must have cost the Brothers at least five hundred dollars since his admittance. While he was being dressed he bellowed like a bull and began the bellowing before he was even touched.

The doctor was just putting up his instruments after this case when the clang of the bell of the patrol-wagon was heard, and two policemen shortly afterwards entered supporting between them a respectably-dressed lad about nineteen years of age. The boy gave his name as Joseph Tobias, and said he had attempted suicide in Lincoln Park by taking poison, the reason being that he had no home, no friends, no work and no money. He was attended to, and there is some chance of his recovery.

The reporter and the doctor then walked through the hospital and visited some of the private rooms where "pay" patients are treated. In one room was poor Kelly, the fireman, who was so badly hurt by the upsetting of the chemical engine some time ago. Kelly's injuries are very severe and he will never be an efficient fireman again. His leg is fractured, but the worst injury is to his arm, which is badly burned to the wrist, all the muscle being exposed. He will never be able to use the arm again. Another remarkable case in the hospital is that of a man who is being treated for inflammation of the inner membrane of the heart. He is an anatomical curiosity in his way, his heart being on his right side and his liver on the left. The curious part of the case is that the man when admitted did not know of this peculiarity.

The Alexian Brothers' Hospital is one of the best conducted and most deserving charities in the city of Chicago. Not a single individual in the institution receives a cent of salary, and the Brothers lead a life of the greatest self-denial, rising at daybreak, winter and summer, and devoting the entire day to the nursing of the sick. Their vows bind them to poverty and obedience and all they do is for the good of others, trusting for their reward in the hereafter. They are at present building an addition to the hospital to cost about twenty-five thousand dollars.—Chicago Tribune

THE new houses erected in Charleston, S. C., are to discard plaster in their interiors entirely. They are to be paneled in wood. Nothing so discourages a man as to have an earthquake come along and knock a section of plaster down upon his head.

To Citizens of Decatur and Vicinity.

I have recently purchased of D. F. Hamsher, on East Wood street, between Water and Main, the entire stock of wagon materials, tools, benches, blacksmith fixtures, etc., and have leased the west half of said Hamsher building, for the purpose of accommodating the public generally in whatever they may need in the repair line on wagons, drays, buggies, etc, either in woodwork, blacksmithing, painting or trimming. Parties wishing anything in my line will do well to give me a call, as I employ good workmen, and do good work as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place—East Wood street, between Water and Main.
